

Page Six

July 21, 2017

News network truce

FOX News and CNN called a temporary truce on Tuesday night. Talent and execs from the archival networks laid down arms to celebrate the release of CNN's Al-syn Camerota's book, "Amanda Wakes Up." The Atlantic Grill was full of current and former CNNers including Poppy Harlow, Christine Romans, Dave Briggs, John

Avlon, Kate Bolduan, Javi Morgado, Izzy Povich, Andrew Morse, Michael Bass and Joy Behar. But there were so many of Camerota's former Fox colleagues in attendance, including Brian Kilmeade, Janice Dean and Rick Leventhal, that CNN honcho Jeff Zucker joked, "Thank you everybody for coming to this Fox News party tonight."

DiCaprio ditches private jets

LEO DiCaprio is shoring up environmentally friendly plans for his foundation's annual gala and auction in St-Tropez, sources tell us. We hear that the star is ditching any private jets and will fly commercial to the glitzy French fête on Wednesday. Organizers are putting the finishing touches on a "pescetarian" menu that will be "meat-free and feature local, sustainable fish and vegetables from area growers." We hear dishes will include "Troveziennne egg" as well as waffle with mushrooms and burrata, and crispy king prawns. There will also be plenty of wine flowing for the crowd of stars, models and moguls since the event will be at vineyard Domaine Bertaud Belieu. Art in an auction by Simon de Pury will include works by Damien Hirst, Urs Fischer and Richard Prince. Ecowarrior DiCaprio has gotten flack for taking rides on pals' private planes to attend charity events, such as last year's amfAR gala in Cannes, France, after picking up an environmental award in New York City. This time, we hear Leo will fly like the rest of us — although we imagine in first class.

Follow us on twitter
@Page Six

Sightings . . .

DAVID Schwimmer at the bar with friends at Ian Schrager's Public hotel in Manhattan on Wednesday. The previous night he was spotted on the rooftop with Cuba Gooding Jr. . . . NAS at Sushi by Bou in the Sanctuary Hotel . . . FORMER Giants head coach Tom Coughlin on a Delta flight from JFK to LAX.

RUDY Giuliani at Benjamin Steakhouse Prime . . . "DOWN-TOWN Abbey" star Elizabeth McGovern outside Broadway's Music Box Theatre . . . DON Johnson at Nello.

Stalker high alert

BROADWAY star Betty Buckley's stalker showed up at a performance at Sag Harbor's Bay Street Theater. On July 10, Buckley (above) performed in "Music Mondays," and "the [female stalker] showed up and was dealt with immediately by police, who had been forewarned," a source says. "She tried to come into the show, but didn't have a ticket. She was in the lobby, wanting to talk to Betty, and cops asked her to leave." The woman, who's allegedly stalked the "Eight Is Enough" star for years, wasn't arrested.